

This lesson was very easy for me to understand, and I like that the lesson helped me make connections between the advanced events and the more basic code by making me do the same exercise with both methods.